Considerations

Go through the business, step by step and identify every point where risk can be minimised and growth can be maximised.

Create the required shift in your personal mindset that you are removed from the tactical day-to-day operations of the business and that your primary function is to coach and resource the team.

Understand that a new winning strategy is required to be effective at the board level as compared to the winning strategy that elevated you to CEO.

Value = Earnings X Multiple

Global & Future Trends

Considerations

Invest time in research to discover profitable and lucrative intersections of industry & technology.

The Identity Upgrade

Mission

After your self-managing business no longer requires you, discover your compelling “What’s next?”

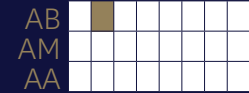

Considerations
